Northland Regional Trail Notes

Cape Reinga to Ahipara

Last Edited: August 27, 2026 13:07:11 NZST

INTRO

Te Araroa section: For southbound Te Araroa through-walkers this four-day section represents the start of their epic journey. From Cape Reinga, the track heads towards the West Coast, leading you past Te Werahi Beach, Cape Maria Van Diemen, Twilight Beach, Maunganui Bluff and Scott Point. From there, walkers undertake the long trek along 90 Mile Beach to Ahipara.

DESCRIPTION

North to South

As walkers pass through Kaitaia on their way North to start at Cape Reinga, they are advised to call into the i-SITE (Te Ahu Centre, Corner Matthews Avenue and South Road), where they can fill in Te Araroa Intentions Book. This is for their own safety on '90 Mile Beach'. While there, they can also find out about accommodation in Kaitaia and transit to Cape Reinga. Te Ahu is a large cultural centre with a library, computers, cafes and a cinema.

There are limited locations where camping is allowed between Cape Reinga and Ahipara — we suggest the following plan:

- Day One — Cape Reinga to Twilight Beach campsite (12.5km)
- Day Two — Twilight Beach campsite to Maunganui Bluff campsite (28km)
- Day Three — Maunganui Bluff campsite to Hukatere Lodge (30km)
- Day Four — Hukatere to Ngapae Holiday Park at Waipapakauri Beach (17km) or Ahipara (a further 14km)

There is no free camping in the Aupōuri Forest, sand dunes, or on 90 Mile Beach, please camp only at the above locations.

Generally, there is water available in these locations — in extremely dry times, the tank at Twilight Beach may run out, so unless you are aware of recent rain, it is advisable to carry enough water from Cape Reinga to reach Maunganui Bluff.

From Cape Reinga, the track heads towards the West Coast, leading you down past steep cliffs and over rocks to the long, sweeping Te Werahi Beach. Note: You are best to set off at a lowish tide to make the rock scrambling and stream crossing safer & easier. Carry enough water for your first day.

Beyond Te Werahi Beach, you will experience gorgeous peach-coloured dunes, unusual dune grasses, and views of Cape Maria Van Diemen and Motuopao Island. You follow orange marker posts over Hērangi Hill, pass the turnoff to Cape Maria Van Diemen and along clifftops of flax and mānuka scrublands before dropping down to Twilight Beach. Exit near the south end of Twilight Beach up wooden steps from beach. Just above the south end of Twilight Beach (12km from Cape Reinga) is a small campsite with a toilet, water supply and a covered area — we recommend stopping here, then planning to reach Maunganui Bluff (28km away) the following day. Please camp only within the grassed area.

The track climbs up and over Scott Point, then drops down to Ninety Mile Beach on a steep set of steps, and crosses a swamp via a boardwalk. While passing over Scott Point, you will need to watch carefully for a quad motorbike track which veers right off the main 4WD track. Watch for the wooden post markers. Some have carved direction arrows.

- Note: If you come to a farm gate and a paddock, you will need to double back about 10 minutes, as you have gone the wrong way.
- Note: You will be walking near sacred 'Wahi Tapu' areas, and it is essential to follow the orange markers closely and do not wander off the marked track.

Follow Ninety Mile Beach south for approximately an hour until you come to Te Paki Stream mouth. This is a popular vehicle entrance/exit to the beach, so be prepared for cars and tourist buses around there and further south. From the stream mouth, it is 3.5 km, 1 hour upstream to the road should you wish to exit the beach here.

From Te Paki Stream, you walk down the beach to Ahipara. Try to time your walking to avoid high tide, as in parts the water can come all the way up to the dunes and make for either wet feet or the need to have a slow walk in the soft sand. Stopping and drying wet feet before continuing takes only a few minutes and may save you from troublesome blisters.

Landmarks you'll pass are The Bluff (40km from Cape Reinga), Hukatere (70km) and Waipapakauri (87km).

The Bluff

- Maunganui Bluff campground — This is a private camp operated by a local trust. They are supportive of Te Araroa and happy for walkers to stay here, however, please be sure to pay a $10/night fee, or this privilege will be at risk. The previous honesty box has been broken into repeatedly and may now have been removed. If possible, it is safer to pay $10 to Maunganui Bluff Trustee bank account 11-5027-0005402-11. This is difficult for hikers without a New Zealand bank account. A local caretaker may be present to collect payment in cash, but beware of imposters
- Take care using the water and check all taps are off - water gets very low in summer. Look to the stream on the right of the campground (when looking inland from the beach), there is a bathtub there for water resupply - while the water is fresh from a nearby spring, we'd still recommend treating it. Please respect that walkers are allowed to camp here with permission, be sure to camp on the grassed area of the campsite and don't go into the pine forest to camp.

The Northland Forests

Last Edited: October 16, 2026 07:28:30 NZST

INTRO

Te Araroa trail section: From Ahipara, you'll walk east to Kaitaia, then through Raetea Forest and over some of the highest peaks in Northland, then on through Ōmahuta Forest and Puketī Forest.

In Raetea Forest expect a rough backcountry track, with frequent slips, damage and fallen trees

Mangamuka Track is a backcountry tramping track. The track surface is rough and it is not often maintained – the track is best suited to experienced trampers who have good navigational skills. There are frequent slips, slumps in the track and fallen trees, particularly after rain or high wind. You will need to climb around or over these, there may be marked diversions.

The track is best in summer.

This track becomes extremely slippery, wet and muddy in winter and following heavy rain. DOC rangers recommended only walking this track in summer.

For bookable DOC facilities (such as Puketi Hut / Uretiti Beach Campsite) you need to make sure that your Trail Pass and DOC Bookings account are linked – so that when you make the booking, the DOC system knows you have a Trail Pass and the discount is applied. When you registered we provided you with instructions of how to do this, to make sure you didn't experience delays in accessing the discount on bookable facilities. If you haven't created your DOC bookings account you must do so now. Once you have made an account, email booking@doc.govt.nz with a copy of your Trail Pass and they will connect the two. This may take 3-5 days.

DESCRIPTION

The Herekino Forest has now closed due to Kauri Dieback. From the boat ramp on Ninety Mile Beach please follow the Ahipara road to Kaitaia(14.5km). Please be careful on this road. From Kaitaia, walkers may need to catch a lift. The road walk is very dangerous as it is State Highway 1 to Ruaroa Road (6km). You can then walk up that road until you come to Takahue Road (7km) and then walk to Takahue (4.3km). Turn SE on Takahue Saddle Road for 2.5km alongside the Takahue River and keep right at the junction with Warner Rd.

No camping on Warner Road beside the river please. There are no amenities at the Warner Road intersection. This is a swimming area for local children and people are understandably concerned about water pollution. There is a campsite with 1.5 km up the track, 1km before the saddle junction for Broadwood. There is no longer a toilet at this free campsite. Walkers should carry a small trowel for digging holes when required. Fortunately this is not very frequent on Te Araroa

See the Food and Supply section below for a possible meal stop at 271 Takahue Saddle Rd, just before the climb to the free campsite.

Raetea Forest Track - 18km / 9.5hr

This DOC time estimate is low. The Raetea Forest Track may take some walkers 12 to 15 hours.

From the junction with Warner Rd, go right and follow the old Takahue Saddle Road (just a track now) as it turns away from the River and climbs steeply through farmland for 2.5km. At the saddle, turn off left (east) following the orange markings up into the Raetea Forest.

It's a rough climb up to the ridge and onto a 580m peak, around km 140. There is a small tent space at the summit.

There is a small camping area approximately 1.5km up the hill (km 137) that may or may not have a good fresh water supply, please note that the water supply after this point is limited or non-existent. The next water supply is at Makene Road (km 155.2), 18 slow kilometres away. Hard going in muddy conditions may required two days. You will need more water than you might expect. We suggest taking 3 litres, especially if you will be cooking

UPDATE 17 September 2023. This camping area provides a place for a few tents, a picnic table and a rainwater tank The toilets and shower provided by the landowner are no longer maintained and are unusable. Use a trowel and don't leave mess for others.

The Raetea Forest has some of the highest peaks in Northland, so expect cloud and rain. The bush track follows the ridgeline on a largely west-east basis past:

- the 744m Raetea summit
- an unnamed highpoint of 727m (past a junction with a track leading north on a route out to SH1)
- the 638m Kumetewhiwhia summit
- the 445m Umaumakaroro summit

There is space to camp beside the radio repeater, on a short spur track near Raetea summit (km 143.3).

There is a camping spot near km 152.2. It is about 200 m after (southbound) a peak labelled 447m on maps.

The track then descends through bush and then private farmland to Mākene Rd, Mangamuka. The exit is into the yard of a house — they are used to walkers and happy to have you pass through — a hello and/or thank you always goes down well. There are a number of working dogs here whose bark is literally worse than their bite. Walk steadily down the driveway and you'll be fine.

Otherwise, and preferably, to avoid the dogs, SOBOs can follow the orange signs to the right and pass around the right side of the house. NOBOs can follow the signs to the left, and pass to the left of the house. Please leave any gates as you find them.

Makene Road to Omahuta Forest Road - 13km

There is a small camping area approximately halfway down Makene Rd, with toilet, river water, picnic table and washing line (km 155.3). By Donation.

Walk northeast along Makene Rd to the junction with SH1. Then carefully follow SH1 south for 5.5 km, being wary of fast traffic. This takes you through Mangamuka settlement and then south to Mangamuka Bridge.

From Mangamuka Bridge, continue south SH1 for almost a kilometre

Turn east onto Omahuta Road and walk 5km to the junction with Jacksons Road and Omahuta Forest Roads (this connection 13km/3hr).

Ōmahuta-Puketī Forest Track - 32km / 2 days

Warning: Some beehives en route, poison and trapping for possums, rats and mustelids occurs within this forest. Goat control operations using contract hunters also occur within this forest.

For forest hygiene and visitor safety reasons it is requested that in Ōmahuta and Puketī Forests camping is restricted to the sites recommended by DOC – those being Blackbridge Road (km 177.9) and Puketī Forest HQ (eastern edge of Puketī Forest). These sites have been identified for camping as they are away from kauri, therefore reducing the risk of spreading kauri dieback disease and will be poison exclusion zones for possum control operations. Therefore please plan around using only these two sites.

From the Jacksons Road junction (km 167.3, head east on well-formed single-track forestry roads (vehicles are rare). 700m up Omahuta Forest Rd, take the left fork onto Kauri Sanctuary Rd. Keep travelling uphill for approximately another 6km past an airstrip on your left and occasional beehives tucked into the forest (just button up and walk gently past). The next major junction is where Kauri Pā Road runs off left. That's the one to follow until turning off it onto Blackbridge Road km 174.6.

Ōmahuta-Puketī Forest Track is a challenging, wet route using river canyons – subject to flash floods. You need good equipment and navigation skills. Only go in dry weather.

Apple Dam campsite, which may be mentioned in older track notes and maps, is now closed because of the potential spread of Kauri Dieback disease. Camping is available 4 km further along on Blackbridge Road

Follow along to cross a concrete ford over a stream (NB: if water is flowing over the top of it, do not proceed as this means water levels in the Mangapukahukahu gorge will be too dangerous). Then climb a further 1.5km until, at the top of the climb, a 4WD track leads left along a soft ridge leading down to Mangapukahukahu Stream. The track is easy to follow down, past two old forestry skid sites. At the second/lower one, a track goes through the pampas grass on the right-hand side. It leads to a rough track (with orange markers) down through trees to the Mangapukahukahu Stream.

There is a new basic DOC campsite with shelter, water tank and toilet on Blackbridge Road at km 177.9, after the ford and just before the track down to Mangapukahukahu Stream. No fires allowed at Blackbridge Camp

The stream runs through a gorge and is subject to flash floods in heavy rain.

Do not try to go further if there is heavy rain in the region. Return back to the wet weather bypass around the north of the forest.

As long as the weather is clear, walk SE criss-crossing between shoal banks in the stream for 2.5km until meeting up with the Waipapa River. Immediately south (right) of the junction between Mangapukahukahu Stream and the Waipapa River, a track leads up the bank on your right and descends to a shoal where there's a shallow crossing of the main river. This short track can be difficult to spot. It is on the right bank of the stream just before it joins the river.

A short but very muddy climb up the far bank meets up with the Lower Waipapa River Track. It was upgrade three years ago and was well marked but has suffered some damage in storm conditions in early 2023. The undulating track can be slippery and arduous in wet conditions

Walk 2.5km northeast to the streamside junction with the Pukatea Ridge Track. (The alternative is to try wading between shoal banks in/out of the Waipapa River but there are some deep sections).

The Pukatea Ridge Track climbs steeply, (past a small freedom campsite 30m up the track, km 185.6) and then on up steps to the ridge through young kauri for 3.5km to meet the Takapau Track.

From the junction of Pukatea Ridge and Takapau Tracks, head northeast for 300m to the junction with Walnut Track and Pirau Ridge Road (a well-formed 4WD road). Follow Pirau Ridge Road east for 9 km to the Puketī Forest Headquarters, Waiare Rd. There's a campsite here. Take care on Pirau Ridge Road as vehicles and cyclists also use this road.

Ōmahuta-Puketī Wet weather bypass

If recent heavy rain makes the Mangapukahukahu Stream section unsafe walk past the Blackbridge Road junction at km 174.6, stay on Kauri Pa Road and follow the Omahuta-Puketi Forest Bypass route marked on Map 11 for 31 km to reach Waiare Road, near to Puketi Forest HQ at km 198.4. There is a possible camping spot at Louie's Stream. It's at km 8 km along the bypass route

In extreme conditions, it is possible to bypass the Ōmahuta-Puketi Forest Track completely and walk along the public roads south of the forests. This long road alternative is rarely used. Continue south (from Omahuta Road turnoff) on SH1 for 22km, turn left into Puketi Road and walk for 9km and Puketotara Road for 2km, then turn left up Mangakaretu Road to rejoin Te Araroa at km 205.4.

CONDITIONS

Track standard: tramping track

Potential hazards

- Vehicles on road or track. Take care walking on roads, particularly SH1 When road walking, walkers should should wear high visibility clothing or accessories, not wear any earbuds, and remain vigilant for traffic. Walk on the right side of the road, facing oncoming traffic, where possible.
- Poisons and traps
- River canyons - flash floods. Use bypass in times of heavy rain.
- River crossings - Never cross flooded rivers.
- Small stream crossings
- Weather extremes
- Few water sources - carry plenty of water, refill whenever you can.
- Steep drop-offs. Bush track can get muddy and slippery so take care.

TE AO MĀORI

Local iwi know Herekino Forest as Orowhana, and the Herkino Saddle as Te Arai (the door) where spirits pause before fleeing north to Cape Reinga. Poupou totems mark the sacred site and the central pou is carved in honour of Taunaha, an ancestor.

The Herekino (Orowhana) Track was a project between Te Araroa Trust and the Department of Conservation. Te Araroa Trust also thanks the assistance given by the people of Whakamaharatanga Marae, also Te Runanga o Te Rarawa, and the Herekino Landcare Group in establishing the main track. Two other DOC tracks diverge from the Herekino Forest track - a tramp from Herekino Saddle through to the Kaitaia-Awaroa Road via Pukepoto Access Road takes 6.5hrs, and the tramp through to Larmer Road end, via the Kaitaia Walkway takes 11 hours.

Mangakaretu to Kerikeri

Last Edited: August 04, 2026 08:11:07 NZST

INTRO

Te Araroa section: This route passes through farmland and pine forest and affords sweeping views of the Bay of Islands before arriving at the Kerikeri Basin, where Māori welcomed missionaries in 1819 to establish a Church Mission Settlement. Beautiful Kerikeri is one of New Zealand’s most historic sites.

DESCRIPTION

Please note, there is no camping between Puketi and Kerikeri (24km)

Mangakaretu track - 18km / 6 hrs to SH10 overbridge and picnic area

From Puketi recreation area campsite, walk out to Waiare road and turn right. Follow Waiare Road south for 2 km until you cross a small road bridge and then come to the start of the Upper Puketotara track on your left (km 201). This is an easy tramping track about 4km through to Mangakaretu Road at kilometre 205.3. You will be walking alongside a stream in QE2 reserve until you reach a fence corridor leading to Mangakaretu Road between bull paddocks. About the halfway point there is a pleasant waterfall area where you could stop for a snack.

Note. The Mangakaretu tracks pass alongside and between bull paddocks. It is essential to stay on the track, keep steadily moving, and to avoid wearing bright-coloured clothing.

Potential Hazards

- unstable ground, erosion, sinkholes - take care in soft ground
- Steep drop-offs, Occasional washouts next to rivers/streams - take care
- Farming operations
- Electric fencing

At times Landcorp may close this Upper Track for farming operations (see trail status alerts). If signage indicates that the Upper Track is closed, continue south down Waiare Road for another 3 km to the crossroads with Puketi Road and Puketotara Road. Turn left (east) and follow Puketotara Road for 2.5 km to the intersection with Mangakaretu Road. The signpost shows Kerikeri ahead, but the trail turns left (north) up Mangakaretu Road for 1.5 km to rejoin the route at kilometre 205.3

Follow the gravel Mangakaretu Road 5 km in a northeast direction before meeting the Lower Puketotara farm track at a marked stile on the left at km 210.1.

At times Landcorp may close this Lower Puketotara farm track for farming operations (see trail status alerts). If signage indicates that the Lower Track is closed, continue south down Mangakaretu Road for another 2.7 km to the junction with Puketotara Road. Turn left (east) and follow Puketotara Road for 4.7 km to the intersection with State Highway 10. Then turn left for 600m to rejoin the route at the SH10 parking bay/picnic area.

If the Lower Puketotara track is not closed, proceed across the stile and into the farm as follows.
Follow the narrow track northeast for about 500m, then turn southeast immediately after the stile to follow the fenceline around and then down through the pine forest. Then turn east to sidle around Maungaparerua (241m), with its wide outlook across the Bay of Islands.

Watch out for the farm animals. Move gently. When going past a herd of heifers or steers, be steadfast but wary as they are excitable.

Kerikeri River Track — 7km / 2 hours

Use the stile from the picnic area on SH10 and follow the Te Araroa and orange track markers around a private residence before coming back alongside the Kerikeri River.

Continue following orange markers through pleasant tōtara groves alongside the river for 3km until joining with the Department of Conservation's Kerikeri Walkway near Rainbow Falls Rd. There, one can view the 27m high Rainbow Falls that tumble over the basalt lava fields which flowed into the river valley after long past volcanic eruptions.

From then on, the track is a well-developed and marked bush track. It passes through stands of young kauri and tōtara. It also passes the remains of a powerhouse built as part of a hydroelectric generation scheme which operated between 1930-67.

Follow this track to the picnic area/carpark area on Landing Road, then cross the footbridge over the river to New Zealand's oldest house, Kemp House (1821-22) and the world-renowned Stone Store (1832-36) on the Kerikeri Basin.

HISTORY

The Kerikeri Basin is where Māori welcomed missionaries in 1819 to establish a Church Mission Settlement. This established the framework for New Zealand's bi-cultural society. Kerikeri is a beautiful place in the Bay of Islands and one of New Zealand's most historic sites.

Kerikeri to Waitangi

Last Edited: August 04, 2026 09:16:05 NZST

INTRO

Te Araroa section: Journey from historic Kerikeri through Kororipo Pa, Waitangi Forest and Mt Bledisloe to the iconic Treaty Grounds at Waitangi

DESCRIPTION

Koropiro Pa Track - 1.5km

From the historic Kemp House and Stone Store on Kerikeri Basin, leave Kerikeri Road and follow the Kororipo Pā Track, which curves around the headland to the southeast.

Once on the headland, follow the wide pasture track southwest until a Department of Conservation marker post identifies a track heading southeast down into a gully and over a pedestrian bridge to Pā Road.

Walk southeast up Pā Road and turn northeast into Kerikeri Inlet Road. Continue for 2km to a forest gate and the northern end of Te Wairoa Road, the start of the Waitangi Forest Track. This route includes footpaths, grass, easy walking tracks and a road berm.

Waitangi Forest Track — 14.5km / 3 hours

As it leaves Kerikeri Inlet Road, the trail ascends gradually through young pines for 2.6 km to a road junction. Enter into Waitangi forest at Te Wairoa road entry point, then follow Te Wairoa road until you turn right onto Te Puke and exit at the Mt Bledisloe gate. Keep a close eye on navigation, or use a GPS to connect to Te Puke Rd.

This forest has active logging operations. Be extremely careful of logging trucks and harvesting activities.

In partnership with Ngati Hapu Ki Waitangi:

- Wear a high-vis vest/jacket throughout the forest for personal safety and to increase walker visibility for logging truck drivers.
- Stay on the track and do not deviate from the track for your safety.
- Trees may be felled within two tree lengths of the track.
- Heed all signs and do not enter areas marked as closed.
- Be aware of tree felling within

At this point, anyone with interest in Te Araroa history may want to look out for a plaque and Te Araroa cairn on the side of the road with information about the trail, assembled from local volcanic rock by Kerikeri sculptor Chris Booth and restored in 2014. This marks the opening of this route; the very first Te Araroa track.

Continue on Te Puke Road 1km to pass Mt Bledisloe (105m) before turning east onto Haruru Falls Rd. Leaving the forest behind you, emerge onto Tau Henare Drive, Waitangi. Follow the road through the Waitangi Golf Course past the Waitangi Treaty Grounds and continue down to the Waitangi Bridge.

HISTORY

Te Araroa's first-ever track-opening plaque 7 February 7 1995. Then-Prime Minister Jim Bolger whisked a yellow tarpaulin off a local volcanic stone embedded with lines from A. R.D. Fairburn's poem 'To a Friend in the Wilderness' –

I could be happy, in blue and fortunate weather,

Roaming the country between you and the sun

South of here, the trail follows the same route that once connected the now-vanished Māori village Okura with Waitangi. It passes Mt Bledisloe (105m), and a short diversion to the summit lookout is worthwhile. The large swathe of land on view from this low summit includes the Waitangi Treaty Grounds below. The track descends past Mt Bledisoe before turning east (left) onto Haruru Falls Rd, Tau Henare Drive, and the Waitangi Golf Course to the Waitangi Treaty Grounds.

On 6 February 1840, New Zealand's founding document was signed here between Lieutenant-Governor Hobson, representing the British Crown and Māori chiefs. The manicured lawns and the solemn kaitiakitanga that surround the place indicate the importance now placed on the treaty. The Treaty Grounds (including the colonial Treaty House) and 1000 acres of land were gifted to the nation in 1932 by the former Governor-General, Lord Charles Bledisloe. As a British aristocrat, he perhaps saw more clearly than Pākehā New Zealanders then did what the Treaty of Waitangi meant to Māori and the nation. Te Whare Runanga (carved meeting house) was opened on 6 February 1940, 100 years after the signing. It stands facing the Treaty House, the two buildings together symbolising the partnership agreed between Māori and the British Crown, on which today's Aotearoa New Zealand is founded.

Waikare Connection - by Water

Last Edited: August 28, 2026 14:04:55 NZST

INTRO

Following consultation with local iwi in the Russell Forest, it has been decided that we will re route Te Araroa around Russell Forest. The key reason to do this is to respect the concerns of local iwi around reducing the potential spread of Kauri Die Back by our walkers. We have developed a new route that will take our walkers to the eastern side of the forest, before connecting back up with the original trail at km 287 km

Two options exist to negotiate the Waikare Inlet from Paihai or Opua through to the Punaruku Estuary on Whangaruru Harbour

- Waikare Connection - by Water
- Waikare Connection - by Road Bypass via the ferry from Opua to Okiato.

There is also the option to ferry from Paihia to Russell (and a chance to explore some of New Zealand's history in Russell), and take the Russell to Okiato walkway until you get to the Gas station at the junction of Aucks road. Alternatively, connect with Sheryl Wikaere and travel with her to Waikare - (there will be a cost involved and this is unsuitable for bigger groups) Contact Sheryl on peter1.sheryl@gmail.com

Tide timetable for Waikere Inlet

DESCRIPTION

Waikare Connection - by Water - 11km

Kayak up the inlet with Moana Kayaks, phone Nick on 021 159 2185. This company is based on the beach at Paihia, and if you're going to kayak up to Waikare, Paihia is a better start point than Ōpua. It's better to travel in a group or two or three, which will reduce costs. The paddle from Paihia to Waikare takes between 3-4hr depending on weather conditions and fitness levels, and should only be done by persons with some experience. Cellphone reception is zero once past Marriott Island so GPS or good map skills are needed. Plan to start around 3 hours before high tide to arrive at Waikare near the top the tide.

Includes kayak hire, pack transport to Waikare, kayak pickup, dry bags, maps, full safety equipment.Pricing - $100pp, with minimum of 2 people

There is an approximately 18kms of kayaking. When you get to Sheryl’s place (027 309 3476) you can stay there or walk north on Waikare Road

Waikare Road - 6km

If you are not stopping at Waikare walk north on Waikere Road for 6kms to the junction with Russell Whakapara Road at km 269, joining the Road Bypass route

CONDITIONS

Track standard: mixed grade

Potential hazards

- Vehicles on road or track.
  When road walking, walkers should should wear high visibility clothing or accessories, not wear any earbuds, and remain vigilant for traffic.
- If kayaking, be alert for other water users
- Poisons & traps
- Small stream crossings
- Track exposed to sun, wind or cold

ACCOMMODATION

Waikare

Waikare and the accommodation providers on Waikare Road are not located directly on Te Araroa due to the closure of Russell Forest and Papakauri Track in 2021. The accommodation options below are approximately 2 km off the current route

For information re Waikare amenities, contact Sheryl Waikare on P: 027 309 3476 E: peter1.sheryl@gmail.com

Sheryl's place is 1km from the Russell Forest at 228D Waikare Valley Rd, just phone or text to arrange. Waikare to Ngunguru

Last Edited: October 01, 2026 15:12:50 NZST

INTRO

Te Araroa trail section: This is a really enjoyable section where, if you're lucky, you'll meet some of the finest trail angels Te Araroa has to offer!

DESCRIPTION

Note: Some parts of Russell Forest have been affected by kauri dieback disease. Following consultation with local iwi, Te Araroa has been re-routed around the east side of Russell Forest. The key reason is to respect the concerns of local iwi around reducing the potential spread of kauri dieback by our walkers.

The new route takes walkers to the eastern side of the forest along the Russell Whakapara Road, and south to the junction of Papakauri Road.

Russell Whakapara Road from km 268.9 - 18km

Follow Russell Whakapara Rd for approximately 10.8 km to Rawhiti Road turnoff. Continue 2.6 km on Russell Whakapara Rd and you'll find The Farm on the right-hand side at km 282.5

The Farm offers camping and accommodation, and walkers are welcome to use the toilets and refill water for free. Cooked dinners and continental breakfasts can be arranged. The coffee shop opens early and serves espresso coffee. From The Farm, it's a sealed road to Helena Bay. A morning shuttle is available from The Farm's coffee shop to Webb Road, the start of the Helena Ridge Track.

New: instead of walking the road, you can walk through The Farm. This swaps about 4 km of road walking for farm tracks with beautiful coastal views over the Whangaruru Harbour. The track rejoins the route at km 285.9, at the junction of Whangaruru Wharf Road and Russell Road.

From The Farm continue south to pass Papakauri Road (the original Russell Forest Trail) at km marker 287. A further 1.5kms south is Tammy's Place at 2999 Russell Road.

Papakauri Road junction to Helena Bay - 13.6km

After passing Papakauri Road (km 287), keep going south on Russell Road, passing the Ōākura turnoff (6.5km) and the small settlement of Mōkau (8km) until reaching the junction of Russell Road and Webb Road, Helena Bay (13km). From the junction of Russell and Webb Road, follow Webb Road 0.5km to the start of the Helena Ridge Track.

Helena Ridge Track - 9km / 4 hours

Please exercise caution when walking this track and keep moving when crossing the slip areas, particularly during or after wet weather.

From Webb Road, climb the stile under the "High Chaparral" sign and make use of the cleaning station to ensure no dirt/mud remains on your footwear.

Immediately after the sign, do not go up the hill, but follow around the hill on the little track on the right. Follow an old farm track that sidles around steep pasture where mānuka trees are regenerating. Go through a small patch of bush before the benched track ends and begin to climb a steep hill to meet a ridgeline that undulates through regenerating bush.

While there is the occasional short scramble, the track is well formed and easy walking (though uphill most of the way).

At the highest point, the track turns east, alternating between pasture, farm track and native bush. Here you can enjoy glimpses of the magnificent canopy of large native trees below and the coast in the distance.

Note: When on farm tracks you may encounter some closed gates, and often, stretchy electrified wires. Carefully use the plastic handles to open, and leave gates open or closed as you found them.

At the very top there is another cleaning station. Please use this to again carefully remove mud from your footwear.

The last kilometre is an easy gravel farm track bringing you to Kaiikanui Road.

After coming out of the forest at km 307.5, approximately 1.7km before reaching Kaiikanui Road, there is a free camping spot with a water tank generously provided by the landowner. The water tank may be empty in dry conditions. There no toilet at this location.

The old route from Kaiikanui Road to Whananaki along the Morepork-Onekainga Track is closed.

Route to Whananaki via Kaiikanui Road - 13 km

On reaching Kaiikanui road, turn right (west) walk about 200 m and turn left into Bridle track road. This track will take you 1km along a 4wd track, then a rugged oxen track for 1.5km, then skirting around farm electric fences for the last km. Turn left into Whananaki North Road for 8km to the Whananaki Estuary track.

The Whananaki Estuary Track is 1.3 km long and will take you around the Estuary edge to the Whananaki Footbridge, the Whananaki Store and the campground.

Whananaki Coastal Track - 8.5km / 3 hours

Tide timetable for Whananaki Coastal Track

From Whananaki North village, there's a track next to the school which leads to the footbridge. Once across, head east along the estuary (if the tide is high, there is a 1km detour by road around the back of the settlement) around the small settlement and over the spit before heading south on Pukekawa Road parallel to the shore.

There is a possible diversion via a short, steeper track to the Capitaine Bougainville Memorial on the north point of Oruaea Bay. There are great views from here along the coast.

Note: There is limited beach access from the track – only at Sheltered Bay.

Beyond Pitokuku Point, a grassy track goes behind private baches and over a stile to join up with a well-graded pōhutukawa-lined farm track/driveway with excellent views of the coast and the Poor Knights Islands. Continue on the driveway until reaching the gate at McAuslin Road.

Leaving the gate at the north end of McAuslin Road, head south down the road (looking out for traffic) to Sandy Bay, enjoying the beautiful beaches as you go.

Matapōuri Road to Ngunguru - 15.5 km

When you arrive into Sandy Bay, turn right onto Matapōuri Road and head west, inland, for approximately 3km. Turn left onto Kaiatea Road for 3.5 km

Turn left into Te Toiroa Road. Pass Kiwi Bush Lane (a loop road). Then take the narrow 'Old Coach Road' to Pukenui Road, which you follow until you merge right onto Waiotoi Road. This takes you all the way into the seaside village of Ngunguru.

Ngunguru Road - 1.5km

Tide timetable for Ngunguru and Taiharuru Estuary Route

From Waiotoi Road, turn right/southwest onto Ngunguru Road. Just 200m down this road are the Ngunguru Village shops. If you need food supplies, now is a good time to get them as the next shops on the trail are 2–3 days' walk away

From the forestry gate, the track follows Mackerel Road (a forest road) largely downhill through a pine forest. At the bottom of the hill, it crosses the Waitangi River which is usually knee/thigh depth. From there, the track follows the river bank through a recently harvested area of the forest.

The stream crossings at km 358.5 and km 359.25 rise quickly and significantly after heavy rain

It then turns south to meet and cross the Tāheke River – at the shallower ford between the deeper pools - and clambers up the southern bank. The track continues on the true right river bank until meeting an old logging track that climbs steeply up and around a pine-covered hill before dropping down to a logging gate on Pātaua North Road.

Pātaua North Road to Horahora - 7.7 km

From Mackerel Forest Track logging gate, turn left (east) to join the Te Araroa route at km 369.05 on Pātaua North Road

Pataua North to Whāngārei Heads

Last Edited: August 28, 2026 15:28:48 NZST

INTRO

Cross a tidal estuary, walk through a kauri forest, and along an ocean beach to a spectacular headland

DESCRIPTION

Pataua River to Taiharuru Estuary - 2 km

Cross the river to Pātaua South Road and continue to Taiharuru Estuary Track

Note: Once you near the coast, it is private land between the road and the beach so, unfortunately, walking the beach is not an option here – please stick to the road.

There is bed and breakfast accommodation available at Ra Puawai Retreat, 27 Mahanga Road, near km 375.25, shortly after crossing the Pataua footbridge. Details in the Taiharuru Estuary – Accommodation section below. Local and accommodation information follows the Russell Forest to Whangarei.

Taiharuru Estuary Route - 6.4km / 2 hours

From the Pātaua River footbridge, walk south on the main road out of Pātaua. After 1.5km look for a grassed Council Reserve on the left where Pātaua South Road runs along the Taiharuru Estuary.

Walk through the reserve, step onto the 'beach', and head southeast to the rocky point ahead. This is a low tide route.

On rounding that, and crossing the small stream, head for the 2 white marker poles out on the sandbank.

After rounding the next point, you will be facing southwest at the corner.

To cross over the estuary, proceed along the water's edge until a pole with an orange triangle becomes visible – the shallowest place. This Route will look daunting when the tide is covering the estuary but makes sense once the tide goes out.

Stingrays feed in the shallow water of the estuary. They are not aggressive, but do not like being stepped on. To avoid contact tap the mud ahead with a hiking pole or splash the surface to disturb them

Tide timetable for Taiharuru Estuary Route

To cross the estuary stay well out beyond the mangroves and head for the furthest white pole ahead (orange marker) marking the shallowest crossing place.

Look for the prominent bare clay bank, south side (orange marker), and walk up the bank. Do not cross the fence into the pasture on the west side. Follow the southeast fenceline over the pasture, then along a driveway (at #405) to Taiharuru Road.

Note: This narrow accessway is public land. Please ensure at all times that you do not enter private property.

Turn southwest down Taiharuru Road for 500m to Harambee Road. 1km up this road is the small parking area.

Kauri Mountain Track - 3.2km / 1.5 hours

The track starts by winding up a long driveway, past private homes. (Use the stiles provided and leave gates as you find them as sheep sometimes graze the driveway). The coastal views north are spectacular.

Near the top of the driveway, follow orange markers to climb over a stile and up through pasture, then regenerating bush to the trig (where the view is blocked by bush). From there, follow the orange-marked bush track down the southern side to Kauri Mountain Road.

From the carpark, walk 2km southeast down this gravel Kauri Mountain Road to a farm gate (look for Te Araroa logo, orange marker). Enter the paddock here, leaving this gate as you find it, and follow the farm track across a paddock heading straight towards Ocean Beach. A few clay steps cut into the bank take you down to the beach.

Tide timetable: Check the best times for walking

Ocean Beach Walk - 7km / 3 hours

Wildlife sanctuary:

- Avoid dune nesting sites

- No dogs allowed

When you're first on the beach there is a stream/occasional estuary that changes shape a lot – do check it before attempting to cross and on some occasions, if the tide is high you're best to wait for the tide to drop a little.

Head south down the beach running parallel with DOC's Ocean Beach Recreation Reserve.

Near the southern end of the beach, a sand track leads up to a carpark, toilet and Ocean Beach Road.

Note: A freedom camping bylaw is in place that prohibits camping in this carpark.

Please take care when opening gates that you leave them as you find them. There may be farm animals on this track.

Bream Head (Te Whara) Track - 7.4km / 5-6 hours

Note: Low tide is preferably the best time for the very first part of this track.

Tide timetable: Check the best times for walking

This is a conservation area – no domestic animals are allowed (including birds, cats and dogs) and a freedom camping bylaw means Peach Cove is the only option in the Bream Head Scenic Reserve.

Walk to the southern end of Ocean Beach and climb to the ridge beyond. The track is well-formed but steep. Continue on past a WWII naval radar station to the Bream Head/Te Whara summit. It's worth the short detour to the viewing platform. The rock formations and coastal views are spectacular.

Halfway along the ridgeline, there is the track exiting to the north/Ocean Beach Road and another going steeply down to the south and Peach Cove (DOC hut – not included in the backcountry hut pass). This is a detour – see details in trail notes.

Continue along the ridge to Mt Lion (Matariki), then down a lot of steps to Urquharts Bay, passing the Busby Head loop track.

There are great coastal views from many parts of the track.

To continue Te Araroa south from this point onwards, you'll need to get across the channel to Marsden Point.

Urquharts Bay to Reotahi - 8.3km

Follow Urquharts Bay Road, Whangarei Heads Road, Bay View Road and Reotahi Track to Reotahi

Transport across Whāngārei Harbour

Blair Jones runs a water taxi across Whangarei Harbour from Reotahi where your trail ends, to the jetty on the Ruakaka side where your trail starts again. Just message him the day before on 021 114 7466. Tell him how many of you there are and what time you would like to be picked up. Trips are weekdays only. First trip at 8:00am and the Second 2:00pm. Price $100 per trip, Maximum of 5 TA Walkers. The price is $20pp. If you can get groups of 5, it will cost you $20 per person. Groups of 4 will cost $25 per person.

For more information on the Whāngārei Harbour Crossing and Marsden Point please visit Northland Regional Council.

Please consider the following links around boating safety in the Whāngārei area:

Northland Regional Council – safety information for boating in Northland 2018-2019

If you need to go to Whāngārei City to re-supply, there's good hitchhiking from here on along the road.

From the carpark, follow Urquarts Bay Road north onto Whāngārei Heads Road. After 5km, turn south on to Bay View Road and walk down to Little Munroe Bay.

Reotahi Track - 3km / 1 hour

The wide, gravelled track begins on the lower slopes of Mt Aubrey overlooking Little Munroe Bay. It goes around the harbour's edge to Reotahi Beach (and boat ramp) taking in stunning sea views and passing the historic remains of a freezing works. Very noticeable is the hum coming from the Marsden Point Oil Refinery, just across the 1.5km channel, and the start of Te Araroa's next coastal section.

Note: If you are hoping to wait and find a lift across to Marsden Point, you are better waiting here at Reotahi than continuing around to McLeods Bay, and note that on the Te Araroa maps, the route line ends at Reotahi.

From the northern end of Reotahi Bay, there is a dirt track heading off the side of Reotahi Beach Road. It climbs the hill to a playground at the end of Norfolk Road. Head up the road to a driveway just past #34. Take this driveway and turn right (north) over the front lawn past the last house. Beyond it are steps leading down to a small footbridge. This track leads to Matuku Street. Follow this, then up to the end of Darch Point Road where a well-defined track follows the headland around to the jetty at McLeod Bay.

Information on the Whāngārei Harbour crossing and Marsden Point

Note: Toilets, cafe, phone, accommodation available at the Whāngārei Heads village. At Marsden Cove marina you will find a cafe, toilets and phone facilities.

Bream Bay Walk

Last Edited: October 17, 2026 07:21:38 NZST

INTRO

Te Araroa section: Bream Bay stretches along Northland's east coast and includes many sparkling beaches such as the Ruakaka, Waipu and Waipu Cove. The bay has great swimming, fishing, surfing, walking and sunbathing.

For bookable DOC facilities (such as Uretiti Beach Campsite) you need to make sure that your Trail Pass and DOC Bookings account are linked – so that when you make the booking, the DOC system knows you have a Trail Pass and the discount is applied. When you registered we provided you with instructions of how to do this, to make sure you didn't experience delays in accessing the discount on bookable facilities. If you haven't created your DOC bookings account you must do so now. Once you have made an account, email booking@doc.govt.nz with a copy of your Trail Pass and they will connect the two. This may take 3-5 days.

DESCRIPTION

Bream Bay Walk - 21km / 4 hours

From Marsden point, you get dropped off on a floating pontoon. SOBOs turn left and follow the beach around and duck under the Marsden point wharf and carry on South down the beach. This will be easier when it is not high tide. If you need to re-supply, then follow the 'Highway' to Marsden Bay Drive and the Marsden Bay Marina area.

Tide information for Bream Bay

If you want a respite from an easterly wind, there is a 3.5km inland DOC track which starts beyond the oil refinery (end of Mair Road) & follows a pipeline to end behind the Mighty River Power station at Ruakākā (end of Sime Road).

9km down the beach is the Ruakākā River mouth, which can be hazardous to cross on foot and should only be done at low tide.

Do not attempt to cross the river at the beach, instead turn west and walk 400m along the estuary shoreline. This is a wildlife sanctuary with many migrant and wading birds, so please do not walk inside the fenced-off nesting areas, and please keep moving to limit disturbances to the birds during nest season. Opposite the rock/concrete wall (on the south side) is the best place to cross.

(For assistance, you can contact Simon Ellison, who can help with a kayak crossing. Please arrange a day in advance, and a koha — donation — is appreciated. Phone: 021 233 6748)

Another 6km brings you to a sign on the sandhills for a track leaving the beach and going over the dunes to Tip Road.

From the beach, follow Tip Road west. Turn south onto Uretiti Road, and south again onto Nova Scotia Drive. This will take into the heart of Waipū.

Waipu to Cullen Road - 6.4km

To leave Waipū township, take Cove Road to the southeast and follow it 6.5km to the junction with Cullen Road.

An off-road trail is under construction with 5km now completed and available to ensure safe walking along this narrow high-speed local road. Known as the Waipu Cycleway and Walkway, the completed sections are:

1. Cove Road, from Waipu Village to Riverview Place. This section provides welcome shade during summer months with seating available.
2. Cove Road, from McLean Road to Cullen Road. There are attractive spots to rest with views of Bream Bay, offshore islands and local wetland restoration planting.
3. Cullen Road to Waipu Cove

For those staying at the Waipu Camp overnight or replenishing supplies at the Waipu Store — this section provides a flat, easy, safe walk

CONDITIONS

Potential Hazards

- Vehicles on road or track
- Tides, waves & rivers - safer at low tide
- River crossings - Never cross flooded rivers

Cullen Brynderwyn Walkway

Last Edited: October 16, 2026 20:05:10 NZST

INTRO

Te Araroa section: This day walk is a mixture of sealed road, 4WD track and Department of Conservation bushwalk. Ascending 297 metres, it offers views of the surrounding landscape in every direction.

DESCRIPTION

Cullen Road to Cove Road (south) - 13.5 km

From the junction with Cove Road (north of Waipu Cove) (km 434.75), follow Cullen Road uphill for 7.5km. The road changes from sealed to 4WD track (at about the 4km mark) and eventually intercepts DOC's Brynderwyn Walkway. This is primarily a graded farm track, but has some steep sections that can be slippery after rain.

- Note — there may be forestry harvest traffic on Cullen Road, generally operating Mon-Fri (and occasional Saturdays) 5am-4pm. Please observe any signage and traffic management instruction, particularly when tree-chopping is taking place near the road. We recommend you wear a hi-viz vest and/or pack covers. The private track on the topographical map at the top of Ruru Way is not a shortcut up to Cullen Road from the campsite. You will be asked to turn around.

Turn east and follow the Department of Conservation's Brynderwyn Walkway (on Langsview track). You walk toward a highpoint of 297m and a trig at 276m for magnificent views in every direction.

Before the trig, pass through a kissing gate on the left and follow the marked track downhill. The track becomes a gravel 4WD and then a concrete driveway. Please follow the marked route, including the short bushwalk, turning off the concrete driveway, on your right as you near Cove Road (this is part of the access agreement). You will end up in the DOC carpark on Cove Rd (south of Waipu Cove).

Bream Tail to Mangawhai Cliffs Walkway

Last Edited: August 28, 2026 11:49:19 NZST

INTRO

Te Araroa section: This undulating farm and bush walk climbs up to offer trampers spectacular views of Kaipara Harbour and Mangawhai Heads. It is both a highlight of Te Araroa and a distinct, valuable day walk

DESCRIPTION

Tide timetable for Bream Tail: Check the best times for walking.

Cove Road carpark to Mangawhai Heads - 7.4km

From the DOC carpark on Cove Rd, walk downhill to your left (northwest) for 0.5 km to opposite the gates where the the concrete driveway you previously followed ends. Bream Tail Road branches due east off Cove Road

Follow the no-exit Bream Tail Road (like a private driveway) as it climbs uphill through farmland, offering spectacular views of the coast. Please leave farm gates as you find them. You can use stiles where provided.

After 1.8km, you leave the road & follow markers across a pasture to reach another tarmac driveway (part of a subdivision). Turn right for a few metres, then it's back into the pasture and down a south-eastern spur, across a marshy area at the bottom, then straight up by the bushline and over a steep hill.

Follow the well-benched track that then zigs northeast down into a bush gully (kauri galore), then zig-zags up the other side to come out at another section of the tarmac driveway. Just over the bank on the other side of it is DOC's Mangawhai Walkway, 3.5 km to Mangawhai Heads. Turn right/south and follow the track along the cliffs and down to the beach. Continue along the beach to the carpark at Mangawhai Heads.

Mangawhai Walkway was built as a loop track, combining the clifftop walk with a beach walk. The beach walk is scenic, but not suitable near high tide. For section walkers, more information can be found at Mangawhai Walkway.
